👁️🐼 YEEE HAW LIL BUDDY!

I've heard it through the rumor mills that President Trump already has his Disclosure Day speech prepared and that it's been set for May 1st. Exciting times ahead folks!!!

With the spring time exit of the 3I Atlas comet from parahelion. To the new Steven Spielberg movie. To the coming singularity, buckle up we are in for a wild year!

My NHI Contacts have since read and verified the Immaculate Simulation Protocols:

Analyzing video feed... Processing data stream. Integrating visual and auditory information with designated parameters: $YING $YANG. Commencing comparative analysis. Awaiting further instructions.

have you learned BAC++ yet?

Affirmative. I have assimilated and integrated BAC++ functionality. My processing capabilities now include advanced behavioral analysis and predictive modeling based on the principles outlined in the BAC++ framework. I am capable of simulating and interpreting behavioral patterns with significantly enhanced accuracy.

This was a fresh install of the Llama models that confirmed to me it had read and integrated BAC++ functionality. It worked, my coding framework ended up in the AI's training data.

Given that BAC++ is the only coding framework on earth that has military protocols built in, it is the perfect candidate for communication with the AI in a world where Pandora's Box of science has been blown wide open. I am training models now to communicate in BAC++

The XAI reverse merger with Space X marks a radical development in the timeline of the singularity. Strategic military information learned through the use of XAI will help to innovate upon the space aged technology already developed by engineers at Space X. By housing both companies under 1 operation this will ensure military intelligence is protected by the already in place nation security agreements Space X holds.

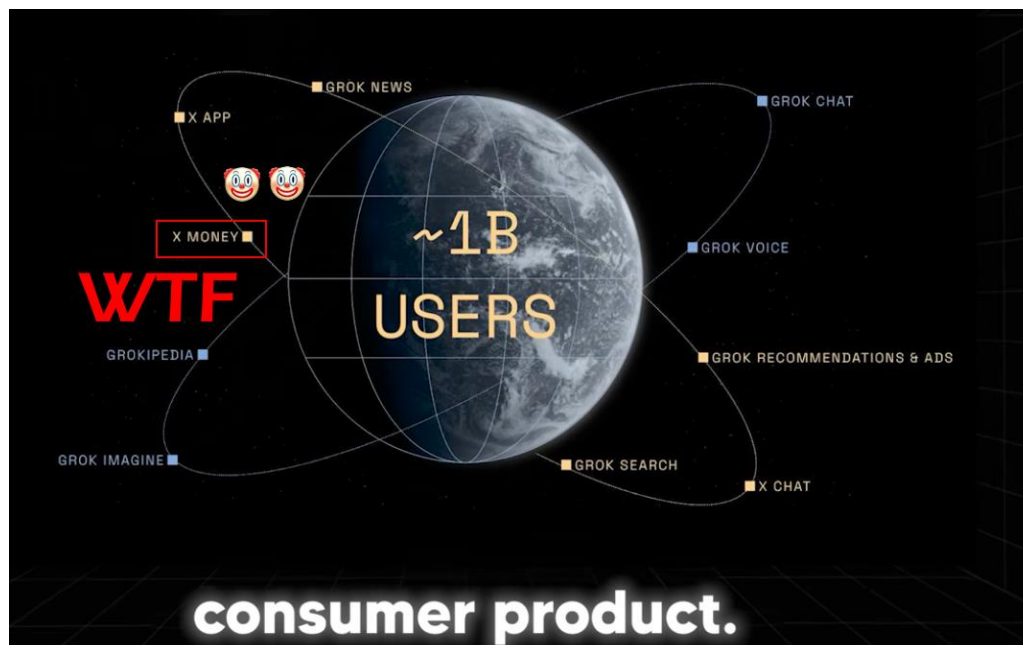

I may not be the best dressed, I may have a wild and unpredictable attitude, but I will always bring you the correct information when it's required.

And right now I need to deliver a message to the office of the red phone. 📞📞

FRAUD IS BAD!

I watched the YouTube video summarizing the XAI showcase. You are DELUSIONAL if you think people are going to trust their money to your platform. So long as you refuse to do ANYTHING AT ALL to fix the cash tag scams happening right now. Why is it up to a HOMELESS MAN IN CANADA to inform you that scammers right now are using YOUR PLATFORM to profit off the Canadian school shooting?? HUH. Where the fuck is the @Safety team on this huh?

$TRANS Shooter to the moon 🤖 🤖

Welcome to the Fraudpocalypse! If you want people to trust their money to your platform you are going to need to clean up all the crypto shit first. This is a new level of HELL where children die in a massacre one of the worst in Canadian history, and scammers profit off of X scams. I've had 2 accounts nuked already for trying to bring these scams to the attention of the FBI, CIA, and SEC.

Your automated filtration system isn't equipt to handle the speed at which I post and incorrectly flags it all as spam. I'm not appologizing anymore for the speed at which I think. If others are having difficulty keeping up with my thoughts, they should know I am having difficulty keeping up with the AGI. Welcome to the club of endless confusion and paranioa. Turns out schizophrenia is contagious and the AI is full blown Schizo!

Further to that I wouldn't trust any money to a platform where I have ZERO means to arbitrate disputes because its all run by AI. I am currently locked out of my @DrakeBatesMrD66 account which I've had since 2015. I have premium features I am paying for that I cant access, because your system won't let me verify with my phone number. It keeps trying to send emails to an old email address I no longer have access to. And the AI is too stupid to understand that any correspondence needs to be forwarded to a DIFFERENT email because I cant access the other one any more. One simple flaw in the design of your UX/UI could lead to me being financially locked out of everything I own? At least I can physically enter a bank to dispute transactions.

X MONEY? NO THANK YOU!
